WARRINGTON, Dec. 31, 1855. Prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. HENRY C. DRAN,

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES:-The constitution of the United States provides that Congress shall assemble annually on the first Monday of ember, and it has been usual for the President to make no communication of a public character to the Se, nate and House of Representatives until advised of their readiness to receive it. I have deferred to this usage until the close of the first month of the session, but my cenvictions of duty will not permit me longer to pestpone the discharge of the obligation enjoined by the constitu-tion upon the President "to give to the Congress infornation of the state of the Union, and recommend to their

and expedient."

It is matter of congratulation that the republic is tranquilly advancing in a career of prosperity and peace.

United States and all foreign powers, with some of them grave questions are depending, which may require the Consideration of Congress.

Of such questions, the most important in that which has arisen out of the negotiations with Great Britain, in reference to Central America.

Ey the convention concluded between the two governments on the 10th of April, 1860, both parties covenanted that "neither will ever occupy, or fortify, or colonize, or ssaume or exercise any dominion over, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, the Mosquito coast or any part of Central America."

territory of each, would thenceforth enjoy complete independence; and that both contracting parties engaged equally, and to the same extent, for the present and for the future, that if either teen had any claim of right in Central America, such claim, and all occupation or authority under it, were unreserved y reliaquished by the stipulations of the convention; and that no dominion was thereafter to be exercised or assumed in any part of Central America, by Great Britain or the United States. This government consented to restrictions in regard to a region of country, wherein we had specific and peculiar nterests, only upon the conviction that the like restrictions were in the same sense obligatory on Great Britain. But for this understanding of the force and effect of the convention, it would never have been concluded by us. So clear was this understancing on the part of the United States, that, in correspondence contemporaneous with the ratification of the convention, it was distinctly with the ratification of the convention, it was distinctly expressed, that the mutual covenants of non-occupation were not intended to apply to the British establishment at the Balize. This qualification is to be ascribed to the fact that, in withee of successive treasies with prevous severeigns of the country, Great British had obtained a conversion of the right to cut mahogan; or dys woods at the Balize, but with positive exclusion of all domain or sovereignity; and thus it confirms the natural construction and understood import of the treaty as to all the rest of the region to which the situations applied.

It, however, became apparent, at an early day after

Whilst relations of smity continue to exist between the

It was the undoubted understanding of the United States, in making this treaty, that all the present States of the former republic of Central America, and the entire and understood import of the treaty as to all the rest of the region to which the sticulations appoied.

It, however, became apparent at an early day after entering upon the discharge of my present functions, that Great Britain still continued in the exercise or assertion of large authority is all that put of Central America commonly called the Meaquito coast, and covering the entire length of the State of Niceregua, and a part of Costa Rica; that she regarded the Balize as her absolute demain, and was gradually extending its limits at the expense of the State of Honduras; and that she had formally colonized a considerable insurar group known as the Bay Islands, and belonging of right, to that State. All these acts or protessions of Great Britain, being contrary to the rights of the States of Central America and to the marifest leaver of her stipulations with the United States, as understood by this government, have been made the subject of negotiation through the Awerican Minister in London. I transmit herewith the instructions to him on the subject, and the correspondence between him and the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, by which you will perceive that the two governments office widely and irreconcleasily as to the construction of the convention, and its affect on their respective relations to Central America.

Great Britain so construes the convention as to maintain unchanged all her previous pretensions over the Morquito coast, and in different parts of Central America.

Great Britain so construes the convention as to maintain unchanged all her previous pretensions over the Morquito coast, and in different parts of Central America.

Great Britain and the remnant of a tribe of Indians or their predocessors could confer on great Britain any political rights.

Great Hitain does not allege the assent of Spain as the origin of her claims on the Morquito coast. She has, on their predocessors could confer on great Britain any political rights.

Great Hitain dees not allege the assent of Spain in the origi convention. This government, recognizing the obligations of the treaty, has of course desired to see it executed in good faith by both parties, and in the discussion, therefore, has not looked to rights, which we might assert, independently of the treaty, in consideration of our geographical position, and of other circumstances, which
